Re-Elected Head of City Schools

At the regular meeting of the city school board on Saturday, Prof. H. A. Babb was again re-elected superintendent. Prof. Babb is a fine school man. From our knowledge of him, we would say, he is one of the very best in the state and our people are to be congratulated that he is to remain with us.

A city's intelligence is always measured by the standard of her schools and our school board can be depended upon to give us the best from the superintendent down. We have chosen to do this work and have no cause for complaint at their actions.

Measure Prof. Babb as you may, he stands at the top. We predict the entire faculty will be, as it has ever been, a credit to Mt. Sterling.

WHY NOT NOW?

Experience teaches that a De Laval cream separator will save $20 to $25 a cow every year over any gravity system of creaming milk, and $6 to $10 over the best of other separators. In other words, a De Laval will save its cost every ten months over the best of other separators while it will last on an average five times as long as any other separator. There are now 2,500,000 De Laval separators in use in every country where dairying is known. There are more De Laval separators used than all other various separators combined. There is no farm implement as valuable as a De Laval separator. SOONER OR LATER YOU WILL BUY A DE LAVAL cream separator from CHENAULT & OREAR.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS

The Woman's Missionary Society of Spencer Church met for an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. T. Perry on the Spencer pike Wednesday, March 8th. On account of so much sickness the February meeting was not held until March.

Miss Emma Coons, President of the Society presided over the business session. The February program was conducted in the morning with Mrs. Tom Perry as leader. The subject was "On the Roof of the World—Tibet."

At noon a delightful plate lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. J. T. Coons and Mrs. Tom Perry. In the afternoon the program was conducted by Mrs. Lawrence Kratzer, the subject being "Africa." Interesting pictures were shown of people in these countries, and interesting discussions were carried on by different members of the society. After the afternoon session ice cream and cake were served. Mrs. Houston Beall of Winchester was a visitor at the meeting.

An Ideal Man For Governor

Bigstaff Stock Farms, Mt. Sterling, Ky., March 12, 1922.

Editor The Advocate, Mt. Sterling.

Dear Sir: Having read your editorial headed "Political Casting," in your edition of March 9, suggesting that it is time for the good people of this Commonwealth to search for a candidate for Governor of Kentucky, and stating some of your high ideals that such a candidate should embody, I have in mind such a man who will fulfill the great and good things expected of our Governor, who is in complete sympathy with agriculture, but big enough and broad enough to do justice to every other interest and has such training and mental attainments which fit him to deal correctly with every question and any emergency that may arise in the office of Governor of our State.

Such a man and the man is Mr. Charles E. Marvin, of Scott county. Yours for a good Governor, THOS. J. BIGSTAFF.

HOTEL PROJECT GOES FORWARD AS CAPTAINS PERFECT ORGANIZATION

Spirit of Optimism Prevails at Headquarters—Attention of Entire Community Focused on This Most Important Enterprise

The new hotel stock sales headquarters, located in the old National Hotel building, today presented a scene of marked activity in preparation for the forthcoming intensive stock selling period scheduled for next week.

The team captains have been busy and with such marked success that practically every one of the nine teams have their full quota of workers.

"What we are building," said John A. Judy, chairman of the citizens' committee, "is not alone a campaign organization; but a sales organization of the highest type. The men are not being chosen at random for this splendid community effort. Rather, they are being very carefully selected by the three division chairmen and the nine team captains. They are selected not alone for what they represent, but for their ability to accomplish big things in a big way—and do it for Mt. Sterling."

The first captain to turn in a complete team, signed up to the campaign office, was C. K. Oldham, captain of team No. 2, which is made up of the following salesmen: Ratliff Lane, F. J. Schaffer, Willard McGuire, Dr. John Knox, J. R. Owings, Lindsay Douglas, Dr. H. M. Wright, James Nesbitt, Squire Williams, R. C. Baker, Marion French, J. T. Coons, C. C. McDonald, Sam Greenwade and G. W. Ogden.

Following closely came Hunt Priest, captain of team No. 6, with the following salesmen: W. B. Small, L. M. Redmond, S. B. Lane, Keller Greene, Charles Kirkpatrick, O. V. Jones, Tom Jones, S. B. Carrington, C. W. Compton, W. H. Tipton and W. O. Mackie.

Other completed teams are given in order as they were turned into campaign headquarters:

Team No. 1, T. B. Hill, captain; G. M. Horton, Dr. O. P. Henry, T. G. Prewitt, J. W. Hedden, Sr., George E. Coleman, Prof. H. A. Babb, Dr. G. N. Cox, H. B. Turner, Thomas D. Grubbs and Harve Knox.

Team No. 3, B. F. Perry, captain;

W. R. McKee, J. Ross Jones, John G. Roberts, Howard Brown, J. R. Lyons, W. O. Pierce, Dr. P. K. McKenna, J. C. Tipton, W. H. Wood and Dr. W. B. Robinson.

Team No. 9, Carroll Chenault, Jr., captain; J. M. Bigstaff, J. D. Brothier, W. S. Smathers, W. L. Killpatrick, R. L. Barnard, Warren Hatton, F. D. Richardson, J. D. Wren and L. H. Hombs.

Team No. 8, A. B. Oldham, captain; J. C. Horton, L. B. Hadden, T. M. Greene, G. D. Marshall, J. M. Venable, Rex Hall, Pierce Winn, R. G. Lyons and R. L. Coleman.

Team No. 4, L. T. Chiles, captain; Charles G. Thompson, Ratliff Lane, P. D. Bryan, J. Y. Rogers, Dr. M. Faulkner, H. B. Ringo, G. H. Strother, Clarence William, Harry Howell and A. L. Mitchell.

Team No. 5, Captain R. T. Judy, is reported to be completed with the exception of one or two members.

Team No. 7, captained jointly by M. O. Cockrell and Joe H. Keller, is also reported to be complete, but the names of the workers were not available before going to press, and will be published in full in the next issue.

This completes the citizens' organization of nine teams of ninety salesmen that has been organized under the supervision of John A. Judy, chairman of the citizens' committee, and through the agency of his fine staff of division chairmen, R. G. Kern, O. W. McCormick, Lee Orear and the nine captains whose names head their respective teams listed above.

The students in the Mt. Sterling schools will aid the team workers in securing the sale of stock for the new hotel. The students in both the grammar grades and high school will compete for the best essay on "Why Mt. Sterling Should Build a New and Modern Hotel." Two prizes are being offered by the Chamber of Commerce. These will be awarded, one for the best essay from the grammar grades and another for the best essay from the high school.

Coal Miners' Strike Now Seems Certain

Little hope of averting a strike in the unionized bituminous coal fields April 1 was held out yesterday in those official circles which are most concerned with the repeated government attempts to bring about an adjustment of wage differences.

Mine operators, it was declared, were continuing in their refusal to enter a conference with the United Mine Workers looking to the creation of a new wage contract for the central competitive field, notwithstanding representations made to them by Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, who holds that existing contracts require them at least to enter negotiations, regardless of whether such negotiations are carried to completion.

The United Mine Workers of America, the general union organization, was declared to be entirely willing to enter a conference, although insisting on the maintenance of existing wage scales, which were adopted in 1920. The employers are demanding reductions amounting to 20 per cent or more.

NEW PRESIDENT FOR TRANSYLVANIA COLLEGE

The Rev. Andrew Davidson Harmon, president of Cotner University, Bethany, Neb., was unanimously elected president of Transylvania College at Lexington yesterday afternoon at a joint meeting of the board of curators of Transylvania College and the board of trustees of the College of the Bible. He also will head the College of the Bible and Hamilton College.

COUNTY HI ENTERTAINMENT

There will be an entertainment at the County High School on Friday evening, March 17. This rather novel entertainment is a representation of a week of chautauqua. An evening of fun is offered. No admission is to be charged. The program will be followed by a pie and box supper given by the girls of the High School for the benefit of the Near East Relief Fund. Let everyone help in this worthy cause.

NOTED SPEAKER HERE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Dr. R. H. Bennett, of Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., will speak at the Methodist church Wednesday evening, March 15, at 7 o'clock. He is a man of striking personality, attractive address and a brilliant son of the south. Let every member of the Methodist church be there to greet him. All are invited to hear this distinguished visitor.

Farmers' Field Day Program

Great interest is being shown in the Field Day Program for Farmers, which will be given at the County High School on March 18, and Montgomery county farmers are going to take advantage of the wonderful opportunity to hear these distinguished speakers.

Our County High School with its splendid corps of teachers is rapidly forging its way to the front and is now recognized as one of the most progressive institutions of its kind in the state. The following excellent program has been arranged by them for their Farmers' Field Day and a large attendance is expected to be present upon that occasion.

PROGRAM

10-11 a. m.—Morgan Hughes, who due to his success as a practical farmer, is now in the employ of the Agriculture Extension Department of the University of Kentucky, will speak on "The Value of Livestock to Kentucky Farmers."

11-12 a. m.—M. G. Ivan Barnes, supervisor of Vocational Agriculture in Kentucky, will speak on "The Need of Farm Training for Young Men."

12-12:45 p. m.—Lunch (at cost price) will be served by the Home Economics Department of the Montgomery County High School.

12:45-1:30 p. m.—Pruning and spraying by the agriculture students of the Montgomery County High School.

1:30-2:30 p. m.—Prof. Roberts, head of the Department of Soils of the University of Kentucky. Subject: "Soil Maintenance."

2:30-3:30 p. m.—Miss Guard, of the Department of Home Economics in Kentucky, will speak on "Value of Home Economics to Women."

Killing Today At Jeffersonville

This morning at about 10 o'clock Miller Martin, son of Marion Martin, shot and killed his uncle, "Bill" Martin at Jeffersonville. Officers were notified at once and left for the scene of the tragedy, but up until the time of our going to press no arrests had been made. Yesterday a still was captured in the vicinity of where the killing occurred, and it is the opinion of local officers that the killing was the result of the belief by Miller Martin that he had been "tipped" off by his uncle. No details of the tragedy are as yet available.

Assessment of County Reduced $301,890

The State Tax Commissioner has placed the assessment of Montgomery county at $14,904,975, a reduction of $301,890. Clark county's assessment was placed at $27,618,065, a reduction of $1,027,704; Bath county, $12,004,142, a reduction of $278,166; Bourbon, $35,178,457, a reduction of $387,461; Menefee, $1,460,423, a reduction of $290,385; Powell, $2,369,102.

The equalized assessments of the 120 counties of the state made by the State Tax Commissioner show a decrease of $64,043,525 under last year.

The decrease is due mainly to a falling off in intangibles and livestock. Real estate is assessed at practically what it was last year. The equalized assessments of the State Tax Commissioner are based on the returns of the county tax commissioners.

Only fifteen counties, several of which are coal producing, show gain in assessments. Perry county, with a gain of $3,713,766, tops the list, with Harlan county second, the increase in that county being $2,103,556.

Mugoffin county, which is one of the best oil producing counties of the state, has an increased assessment of $517,576. Lee county, the leading oil producing county, has a decreased assessment of $73,833.

Jefferson county's assessment has a loss of $17,986,479 and Fayette county, a loss of $301,878. The assessment of Franklin county is $361,300 less than last year.

COURT DAY AT OWINGSVILLE

A good crowd of business men was together. They were feeling good and business was active. There were about 150 head of cattle on the market and they were sold quickly by the head, bringing good prices.

George Maze purchased a good aged mare at $91 and a pair for $225. Two other pairs brought $245 and $270. Plug horses were numerous, bringing from $15 to $65. There were no high class horses offered. There were about 200 head of hogs, including sows and pigs, that sold around 10 cents. S. P. Greenwade purchased 27 head, paying $10 per head.

TWO CAUSES ARE CITED FOR SOYBEAN FAILURES

Failures in growing soybeans for the first time are due largely to the fact that the beans are planted too deep or that they are not inoculated before seeding. Ralph Kenney, crops extension specialist at the College of Agriculture, is pointing out to many Kentucky farmers who will try the crop for the first time this year.

In most Kentucky soils, from one-half to an inch is probably deep enough to cover the seeds. Corn planter attachments for planting soybeans take care of most of this trouble by dropping the bean seed through a separate opening and allowing part of the soil to fall on the corn before the bean drops.

Although soybeans grow well on good soils without inoculation, they take all the nitrogen which they require for growth from the soil when grown under these conditions. On the other hand, most Kentucky soils are of medium fertility and consequently inoculation is necessary for best growth. For this purpose, soil from the top four inches of a field that grew inoculated beans last year will be satisfactory. A quart of soil will inoculate a bushel of beans.

The soil for inoculating may be gathered now and placed in a corner of the barn until time for seeding. In inoculating the beans, a bushel of them is placed in a box or tub and slightly moistened with water after which the powdered soil is sifted over them, care being taken to see that all seeds have some soil on them. They should be planted immediately after treating.

FARM AND HOME NEWS FROM OVER KENTUCKY

In order to help farm boys and girls of Allen County get started in the production of purebred animals, leading banks in the county will finance the purchasing of pigs for members of the junior agricultural club there, a report from County Agent A. M. Allen states.

As a result of the winter egg laying project being conducted over the state by the College of Agriculture extension division, many Livingston county farmers are learning better methods of obtaining higher egg production from their hens, County Agent L. C. Pace reports. Chief interest is centered around the leading flocks in the county, which as a general rule, are the ones that are receiving a balanced ration, are well housed and that have been culled to remove the loafers, the report states.

Owners of purebred White Wyandotte flocks in Webster county are distributing purebred hatching eggs to their neighbors in order to further the plans to make this breed the standard of the county, County Agent Lloyd Cutler reports. Members of the junior agricultural clubs in the county, who are raising poultry as their project, also will obtain eggs from the same source.

With a total of 195 farm boys and girls enrolled in junior agricultural clubs, this work is continuing to develop in Lewis county, according to a report of County Agent R. O. Bate. Club schools which are held every ten days and which deal with some agricultural or home subject are the latest development in interesting the farm youngsters.

CALLOWAY FARMERS PLAN FOR ORCHARD IMPROVEMENT

Interest among Calloway county farmers in the better care and management of their fruit trees has experienced considerable increase this spring over that shown last year, County Agent J. B. Gardner has reported to the College of Agriculture extension division. Eleven demonstrations have been held in different parts of the county to show farmers the best methods of pruning and spraying their trees, while 12 farmers have ordered spray pumps.

From coast to coast Tanlac is known and honored and millions have taken it and pronounced it the greatest medicine of all times.—Land & Priest.

Further standardization of Crittenden county poultry flocks with purebred White Wyandottes will go forward this spring with the distribution of 20 settings of hatching eggs to farmers in different sections of the county, a report from County Agent J. R. Spencer states. Local banks are co-operating in financing the project.

For printing, see The Advocate.

SEASONAL GARDEN TIPS

Since the garden is expected to produce more food than any other piece of ground the same size on the farm, it is essential that it be given the best possible care. Large quantities of well rotted manure worked into the soil before the crops are planted are big helps in making the garden a success.

Planning a companion system of cropping is a good way to overcome the disadvantage of the limited space usually provided for the garden. Lettuce, radishes, spinach, early turnips or early beets can be grown between the rows of cabbage, tomatoes or cucumbers.

Prevention has more value in the garden perhaps than anywhere else, especially when it is used to control insects, garden specialists at the College of Agriculture say. Smoke for moth spray pump is almost an essential in preventing insect damages and getting the best results from the garden. A small hand pump with the quart jar attached will give satisfactory results under average conditions.

The latter part of March is a good time to put out early cabbage. Jersey Wakefield has proved to be one of the best varieties for this state.

Records show that one year out of every ten the last killing frost in spring occurs after May 1 in the vicinity of Ashland, after April 29 in the vicinity of Lexington, after April 21 in the vicinity of Louisville, after April 25 in the vicinity of Owensboro and after April 24 in the vicinity of Paducah. Gardeners can determine the best time to plant vegetables liable to be killed by frost by using this schedule of probable dates after which no more killing frosts will occur.

MORE HOME-GROWN FEEDS PLAN OF LARUE FARMERS

In line with their plans to increase the amount of protein feeds grown on farms of Larue county, members of farmers' organization, two dairy associations and interested farmers will co-operate with County Agent J. W. Jones and the extension division of the College of Agriculture at Lexington in carrying on a campaign for 1,000 acres of soybeans and cowpeas to be grown for hay, according to a report. Because of the shortage of home-grown feeds, many dairymen in that section of the state have been buying commercial dairy feed, cottonseed meal and bran to keep up the butterfat production of their cows.

When Every Move Hurts

Lame every morning, achy and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly? Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbors use. Ask your neighbor!

S. M. Warner, retired merchant, Maysville St., Mt. Sterling, says: "I was taken suddenly and my back and sides ached dreadfully. The least move sent nagging pains through my body. I was confined to my bed and was dillirious part of the time. My kidneys acted irregularly and I could get no help until I used Doan's Kidney Pills from Duerson's Drug Store. They helped me right along until I was improved in every way. I keep them on hand and they keep me free from the aches and pains a person of my age is subject to."

On December 13, 1920, Mr. Warner said: "Since I recommended Doan's I have used them several times when I felt my kidneys required a tonic and they have always helped me."

HONEY—PHILOSOPHY FOR 1922

The greatest thing in the world we get for nothing if we want is education—but half of us don't know where to look for it. We have an idea it is all locked up in the little red school house or the palatial university just as if education was book learning instead of development of the mind and heart, knowing of useful things and the expansion of our best qualities. Education doesn't begin until schooling ends. It is then we meet the real teachers—other men and women, the birds, the flowers, the soul of books, the great expanse. Soon—before we go to work we'll pick up our "talkers" and say to the people over in India "Good morning, boys. How are you fellows getting along over there?" and then we'll learn. The invisible school house has just been opened.

Nature intended that you should eat what you want. You can do it if you take Tanlac.—Land & Priest.

Fortune came and knocked at our door with cheery hail, but, alas for fortune's labor, we were over at our neighbor's pouring out a hard luck story.

SUDAN GRASS GAINS FAVOR AS HAY AND PASTURE CROP

Although only a small acreage of it was grown in the state last year, Sudan grass has demonstrated its usefulness to Kentucky farmers, both as a pasture and hay crop, and indications are that more farmers will try it during the coming year, according to crops specialists at the College of Agriculture. Not more than 200 acres were grown in 1921, but it is probable that this will be increased to about 2,000 acres this year.

The grass, which is a fine-stemmed sorghum, is possibly more valuable in the state for pasture than it is for hay, this being especially true in the case of dairymen and farmers who are raising large numbers of hogs. From the time that it is a foot high, the grass will carry about 1,000 pounds of live weight of any class of stock an acre. On good land, the carrying capacity is even greater. The crop has further advantages in that the seed is cheap, ranging around four cents a pound, it is relished by all classes of stock and can be grown on any type of soil. The grass grows rapidly during July and August until killing frosts.

In Kentucky it is usually seeded from May 1 until July and is cut for hay when the first heads appear. It is possible to get two crops of hay a season from it and some pasture in addition. From 10 to 20 pounds of seed is used an acre. This may be broadcasted and harrowed in or drilled with a wheat drill set at about two pecks of flax an acre, the latter method being preferable. The heavier rate of seedling is best both for hay and pasture purposes.

J. S. King, a dairyman at Somerset, is among the Kentucky farmers who have obtained good results with the crop. Mr. King grew 18 acres in 1921 and will sow an equal acreage this year. He cut one crop of hay and then grazed the grass for the remainder of the season. E. P. Maggard, Flemingsburg, estimated that he harvested seven tons of field-cured hay an acre from two crops in 1921.

BURRY WOOL RESULTS IN BIG ANNUAL LOSS

With the average Kentucky sheep shearing about five pounds of wool, farmers of the state lose about 50 cents on each fleece that is marketed with burs in it, sheep specialists at the College of Agriculture have estimated in pointing out the advantages of removing these before selling the wool. Wool containing burs always is discriminated against by buyers, the price last year for burry wool being approximately two-thirds of that paid for clean wool. Wool worth 30 cents a pound will bring only 20 cents when it contains burs. In view of the fact that the state produces about 3,000,000 pounds of wool each year, a reduction of ten cents a pound on that containing burs represents a heavy annual loss to farmers of the state which could be avoided, the specialists say.

400 MORGAN FARMERS SEE PRUNING METHODS

As a result of a number of pruning demonstrations held in different parts of the county by County Agent R. B. Rankin, many Morgan county farmers have been taught how to clean up their orchards as the first step in increasing their productivity, according to a report. A total of 35 demonstrations held in the county were attended by approximately 400 farmers.

NEW MODERN HOTEL

Before the campaign drive is launched, every man of affairs in Montgomery county will be decided as to the amount of stock he or she can manage. There are some persons amply able to take 100 shares and they will respond promptly; there are others who will be glad to take 75 shares and still others who will subscribe 50 shares; a great number will take 25 shares; many more 10 shares, a greater number 5 shares and then the hat will be passed and the other folks will have a chance at 1 share and up. The folder with the title "A New Hotel for Mt. Sterling" gives all the data, showing a paying investment, so that minds will be made up according to the shares wanted.

This folder shows Mt. Sterling a hotel center; that she needs accommodations; that she loses money from the lack of accommodations; that conventions of every name are barred from the lack of hotels; that travelers to and from pass us by on the Midland Trail; that investors seeking plant locations meet with disfavor, all of which are to Mt. Sterling's hurt, and are overcome by the new modern hotel. A table in this folder has a financial statement that gives a paying dividend.

ADJOURNS TOMORROW

Tomorrow evening with the clock stopped a few minutes before 12 o'clock, as is the custom, this legislature comes to a close, having passed two commendable political acts and one that pertains to the interest of all the people, Democrats and Republicans, making the tobacco pooling act legal by a unanimous vote, the entire legislature voting. These acts were expensive, but they will doubtless be appreciated the more.

EVOLUTION OPPOSITION SILENCED IN THE LEGISLATURE

By a 42 to 41 vote the legislature went on record as favoring the evolutionists. Briefly, 42 members are self-confessed descendants of a species of monkeys. That's the trouble, monkeys.

Produce Review

Increased production of eggs due to the mild weather has been reflected in larger receipts at selling markets and in lower prices. There is every indication that a larger supply of eggs will be available this season than last.

A good steady demand has been noted for both live and dressed poultry, with practically unchanged prices at the week's close.

Cream deliveries to creameries are about normal for the season, with good demand from consuming trade. Very little foreign butter is in sight, and prices are generally steady.

H. H. Barnes Sends Letter of Commendation and Desires to Purchase Stock

An enthusiastic letter has just been received by J. O. Greene from H. H. Barnes, a former resident and business man of Mt. Sterling, who is now managing the very successful Ruffner Hotel at Charleston, W. Va. Mr. Barnes having been unusually successful in the hotel game, speaks with authority. The letter in part reads as follows:

J. Oldham Greene, Mt. Sterling, Ky.

Dear Oldham: Have just read in a Mt. Sterling paper of the proposed idea of a hotel for Mt. Sterling (my old home). I naturally have a soft spot in my heart for the old home town, and feel interested in any and all things happening.

My experience and success in hotel work dates back to the year of 1904, when I first started out at the old National Hotel.

Mt. Sterling sorely needs a hotel now, and when you get the right man to run your place no doubt he will make money for the stockholders.

Since leaving my old Kentucky home my success in hotel work has been almost phenomenal. So if I can be of any assistance in the way of suggestions to the stockholders, I will only be too glad to serve you, and when the time arrives for subscriptions, you may count on me for some stock.

I often see Bill Strossman here, and it is always a pleasure to hear of my friends and their success.

Here is hoping the enterprise will go forward and all will lend a helping hand. I am, Your friend,

FOR POOL PLAN

TO PROSECUTE

Members of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative Association thoroughly approve the proposed prosecution of contract breakers, according to Director of Warehouses Ralph M. Barker, who returned yesterday from an inspection trip over the district, in which he directed the closing of all but one of the receiving plants in each town having more than one warehouse and talked with growers, bankers and business men in regard to the cooperative system of marketing.

"I have never seen in my life such a wonderful spirit of cooperation as was manifested at every point I visited," said Mr. Barker. "I talked with farmers, merchants, bankers and professional men in every town and county, and it seemed to be the unanimous opinion that we have hit upon the right system for the disposition of the crop."

"In every county I visited, numerous farmers having an opportunity to observe the workings of the new system have voluntarily come forward, asked for contracts and have signed up their crops for the next five years. I also learned that the members unanimously approve the expressed intention of the legal department to sue the men who have broken their contracts by selling their tobacco over to the loose leaf floors and that they want this action taken as a means of protecting members of the association in the future from welters who seek to take advantage of the price conditions created by loyal members who keep their word and their contract."

"There are not many of these fellows, but some of them are prominent enough to attract attention and if they can 'get by' with such violation of agreements, the growers declare, it will have a demoralizing effect on the loyal growers and tempt others to violate their contract, should future marketing conditions continue as this year, which is probable."

Mr. Barker said that practically all the association tobacco would be delivered by the first of April. Leases on the warehouse plants all over the district practically have been completed, he said, and as soon as the work of receiving the tobacco is out of the way trades will be completed between the warehouse owners and the subsidiaries, which will take deeds to the property under the contracts originally signed by the owners and by Mr. Barker as the authorized representative of the association.

F. D. Williams of Richmond, Va., leaders of the growers in the sun-cured association in Virginia, North Carolina and South Carolina, was in Lexington yesterday. He said the success of the association in both the bright and dark districts of these three states was assured, beginning with this year's crop.

While he was away from Lexington Mr. Barker visited Camp Taylor and the redrying plant of Louisville, Taylorsville, Bloomfield, Springfield, Lebanon, Harrodsburg, Danville, Lancaster and Carrollton.

NICKEL SALES BUILT GREATEST BUILDINGS

Any merchant reader of The Advocate who may be inclined to look down on a nickel transaction can get a very different view point when he looks up at the colossal Woolworth building in New York or the Wrigley building, Chicago's most lofty office building.

These two structures represent constant turnovers, constant nickel sales. Along this line we quote portions of an editorial from Printer's Ink:

The nickel gave to us the Woolworth building, one of the seven wonders of the twentieth century. Now it has given to us the Wrigley building, Chicago's most lofty office building. Spearmint, Doublemint and Juicy Fruit put up this magnificent skyscraper.

The building is not only a credit to Mr. Wrigley, but is a monument to advertising. It is advertising that gives the nickel its fortune-making potency. It opens up the purses of the masses for the product that sells for only five cents. The vast majority of our millions of people are prospects for a five-cent package of gum, a package of Uneda bisect or a roll of Life-Savers.

How the demure nickel plus advertising multiplies markets is well illustrated in the case of the astounding success of the five-cent package of raisins, recently put out from California. The nickel unit wrought this business miracle, just as it has done before in so many cases.

WORK

We sometimes hear of people who work themselves to death, just as we hear of ghosts and man-eating sea serpents. And all the time we know "there ain't no such animal."

For one man who works himself to death, 10,000 die from lack of exercise, overeating, late hours or avoidable worry. Fatalities from overwork or from hiccoughs are about equally rare.

Work develops; work stimulates; work strengthens; work induces, promotes and compels growth; work lays a corner stone in the success structure whose place cannot be filled by a substitute.

Hard work will not at all take the place of judgment, thoughtfulness, fact nor an earnest purpose. Added to these, however, it always means a successful career.

But to many people, "work" is an ugly word.—The Optimist.

SIR HARRY LAUDER CALLS FOR HELP

Noted Scotch Comedian in Letter To Col. Fred Levy Endorses The American Jewish Relief Committee Campaign.

Kentuckians Are Urged To Join The Rest of The Country in Contributing Funds For The Relief of Starving And Destitute Jewish People In Europe.

Sir Harry Lauder, the great Scotch comedian, is firmly of the opinion that in helping the stricken people of Europe, Americans will also be helping themselves. Upon a recent visit to Louisville, Sir Harry wrote a letter to his friend, Col. Fred Levy, State Chairman for Kentucky of the American Jewish Relief Committee, endorsing heartily the efforts of that organization to raise $150,000 in the state for the starving orphans and men and women of Central and Eastern Europe. Sir Harry declared that it is as much the business of the non-Jew as it is of the Jew that Europe gets on her feet at the earliest possible moment.

While the campaign in Kentucky is being conducted by Jewish people and while the appeal for aid is made to them direct, all who desire to give are urged to do so and are assured that their contributions will be gratefully acknowledged.

Sir Harry's letter follows:

"Dear Col. Levy: "I am so impressed on just learning that you, as well as a great many others, are devoting valuable time to conducting a campaign here for relief of the many destitute Europeans, that I wondered if it would not help your organization to know that the kindness of heart impelling busy men to sacrifice time and give large sums for this purpose, is bound to be repaid a thousandfold by the benefits this country will derive if the much needed help at this time will enable Europe to get back to normal."

"I do not know whether you have ever heard any one else express this thought which stands out vividly in my mind, but it seems to me that if the business men of the United States would stop to realize that Europe is the market of the world, and must be put right before this country can itself get right, that you would have no difficulty in your task. The man who claims he is not interested in the welfare of these people is simply blind to the fact that the secret of the depression he is complaining of here is found in the dead standstill of starving, homeless and destitute Europe, which only craves a chance to get back on her feet. Poor Europe!

"I have recently seen conditions throughout Europe and I speak from first hand knowledge. We have finished with battleships—now we need friendships—the brotherhood of man! "I wish you great success, and for the good of both Europe and the United States don't fail. I know Scotchmen don't know the word failure—he Scotch on this occasion.

"Cordially yours,
"HARRY LAUDER."

JEWISH PEOPLE TO STAGE CAMPAIGN

KENTUCKIANS WILL RAISE MONEY TO HELP STARVING AND DESTITUTE PEOPLE OF EUROPE.

Col. Fred Levy of Louisville And Chairman of State Campaign And Irvin Marcus is State Director —Headquarters in Louisville.

During the latter part of March, the Jewish people of Kentucky are to join in the great campaign now being carried on by the American Jewish Relief Committee for the relief of the stricken Jewish people of Europe.

Since the great world war started the Jewish people of this country have raised practically $50,000,000 for this work. Every cent of the money has been spent. According to the best figures of men who have just returned from personal inspection of conditions in Central and Eastern Europe, $14,000,000 more must be supplied at once of the stricken Jews there are given adequate aid.

Already enthusiastic and effective campaigns have been carried on from Maine to California, and from Minnesota to Texas. Reports from these campaigns show that never before have the Jewish people of this country rallied to the cry of their stricken brothers and sisters in Europe as they are doing today.

Every state quota has been reached and passed—a most remarkable showing. Cities in which it was predicted that the campaign appeal would find no response are surpassing the fondest hopes of the campaign managers. Chicago's quota of $1,000,000 was raised to $1,800,000 and oversubscribed. St. Louis, Milwaukee, St. Joseph, Mo., Kansas City, Los Angeles, Baltimore, and other cities have exceeded their quotas.

Kentucky's campaign organization is in the hands of Colonel Fred Levy of Louisville, Chairman. Irvin Marcus of Louisville is director of the state drive. Headquarters are in complete operation on the third floor of the Keith National Theatre Building in Louisville.

WHAT SHIPS MEAN

TO THE FARMERS

What ships mean to country America is demonstrated in the movement of American grain into the interior of Russia. Don Livingston, commissioner of agriculture of South Dakota, and a member of the Russian Relief of the American Relief Association, reports that the first two steamers that sailed from Baltimore, Md., have arrived at Novorossiysk. Four hundred cars were assembled at the port to rush the grain to the interior in an effort to save the children from starvation.

Since the first of the year thirty steamers have left for Russia bearing relief corn—in round figures 5,700,000 bushels, in addition to 1,464,750 bushels of wheat. The ships have cleared from New York, Baltimore, New Orleans, Philadelphia and Boston. In days of old when partisans were bold the suggestion of government aid for American shipping was regarded in the light of iniquitous graft, but the people are coming to see that American ships mean the expansion of American trade and that a merchant marine is of real import to the farmers who may never have seen a ship. Criticism is offered of the present subsidy plan as outlined by President Harding and Chairman Lasker of the shipping board, in that it will mean on the basis of allotment the giant ocean passenger liners will receive great favor while slow freight vessels will not be aided materially.

This is something the farm bloc may be relied on to investigate. Ships mean increased agricultural activity and agricultural activity means increased prosperity for all the people. Undoubtedly there would be still a greater driving force behind the development of an American merchant marine had Chairman Lasker carried out his program of education instead of confining it to the glittering generalities that have characterized his talks at banquets to advertising men.

To Direct The 50 Professional Models at Louisville Style Show

MISS JOSEPHINE LEHR

Louisville's 1922 Style Show and Exposition, which will be held in the Armory in that city March 31st to April 8th, promises to be the most elaborate style revue ever held in the South. Miss Lehr, a style model of national reputation from New York city, has been employed by the Style Show board of directors to direct the poses of the fifty professional models who will take part in this important spring fashion event.

"PARIS ON PARADE"

It will be a veritable Paris event in every way. Not only will the smartest Parisian wearing apparel be worn by the fifty professional models imported for that purpose, but the big armory will be transformed to represent that beautiful city of fashion. The shops of the exhibitors will represent fashionable French shops and the decorations will be the most elaborate ever used in Louisville.

There will be a complete change of program daily and many attractive features have been arranged, which will be announced later. There will be a seating capacity of 6,500 at each performance.

HALF OF HATCHING EGGS

TURN OUT TO BE BLANKS

Kentucky farmers annually lose more than 24 million eggs and 12 million chicks through their efforts to rear chickens to maintain the 10 million hens on farms of the state, according to poultrymen at the College of Agriculture. These figures mean that one-half of all the eggs incubated fail to hatch and nearly one-half of all the chicks hatched die before reaching market size or maturity, the specialists say.

The main cause which they outline for this loss during incubation and the first few weeks of brooding are due to the management of the poultry used as breeders, the care of eggs previous to and during incubation, and the operation of the incubator. The cost of Kentucky chicks could be reduced more than $500,000 each year by increasing the batch from 50 to 75 chicks from each 100 eggs, it is said.

"The first step toward more and better chicks is to produce good quality eggs," J. H. Martin, in charge of the college poultry work, said. "Eggs suitable for producing healthy, vigorous chicks must be fertile, fresh in quality, normal in size, shape and shell texture and produced by healthy, vigorous stock. They should be kept in a clean, well ventilated room having a temperature of about 50 degrees. Ten days is the longest period eggs should be held before being placed in machines and the shorter the time they are held the better will be the hatch.

"While the hen is a good incubator of eggs, she is being replaced rapidly by the hot air, hot water or electric machines, all of which give good results under proper management. The type of machine to buy is the one that is durable, built of good materials, well insulated from the outside temperature and easily cleaned. It also should have a heating device that is capable of supplying sufficient heat, and a heat control that is accurate. Ample provision for ventilating the egg chamber is important. Operation of the machine is best done according to the manufacturer's directions."

WEAK, NERVOUS, ALL RUN-DOWN

Missouri Lady Suffered Until She Tried Cardui.—Says "Result Was Surprising."—Got Along Fine, Became Normal and Healthy.

Springfield Mo.—"My back was so weak I could hardly stand up, and I would have bearing-down pains and was not well at any time," says Mrs. D. V. Williams, wife of a well-known farmer on Route 6, this place. "I kept getting headaches and having to go to bed," continues Mrs. Williams describing the troubles from which she obtained relief through the use of Cardui. "My husband, having heard of Cardui, proposed getting it for me. 'I saw after taking some Cardui... that I was improving. The result was surprising. I felt like a different person.'"

"Later I suffered from weakness and weak back, and felt all run-down. I did not rest well at night, I was so nervous and cross. My husband said he would get me some Cardui, which he did. It strengthened me... My doctor said I got along fine. I was in good healthy condition. I cannot say too much for it."

Thousands of women have suffered as Mrs. Williams describes, until they found relief from the use of Cardui. Since it has helped so many, you should not hesitate to try Cardui if troubled with womanly ailments. For sale everywhere. R.33

American Legion News

To put 700,000 ex-soldiers into jobs is the American Legion's immediate objective, according to an announcement from legion national headquarters. To accomplish this, a nation-wide drive will be launched from local posts in every city and town in the country on March 20, and employers and business men will be called into conference to devise ways and means of creating jobs and putting an end to a situation which Hanford MacNider, legion commander, has called "the greatest crisis in the legion's history." Civic organizations from Maine to California have been asked to swing in line to back up the legion and make a concerted effort which will be felt in all sections of the country. By stimulating industry, by pushing engineering projects and municipal developments, by speeding up public utility enterprises, road building, paving, dredging, truck gardening, reforestation and reclamation, and by encouraging the "back-to-the-farm" movement, the legion hopes to break the labor slump which has kept worthy men out of work and caused widespread disaster. Each city will be divided into regions, each under its own post and employment committee, with a general committee co-ordinating the efforts of all.

The assembly of New York, in legislative session, has passed a resolution endorsing the American Legion's five-fold adjusted compensation measure and urging its passage. Copies of the resolution were sent to New York members of congress.

It took a small Jewish girl and a little maid from Italy to win first and second prizes for the best essays on "Our Greatest American." The contest was held by the American Legion at Auburn, N. Y.

Napoleon was right! Fifty cakes, 40 cases of soft drinks, two bushels of peanuts, 20 gallons of ice cream, 4,000 sandwiches and a crate of oranges were consumed by 900 ex-soldiers (and friends) at an American Legion housewarming at Birmingham, N. Y.

"There is only one god, and that god is Allah," yelled a young man at midnight from the top of a lonely hill in Nashville, Tenn. The police were not placated until American Legion comrades explained that he was being initiated into a Greek letter fraternity.

Galloping from bangars on winged mounts, ex-fliers of the American Legion staged an aerial polo game in a recent carnival at Miami, Fla. Toy balloons were used in place of polo balls.

Captain Charles, Ainsleigh, skipper of a coal barge in 1918, was the only American wounded off the coast by enemy fire. He was bit by a shell from a submarine while his small son stood on deck and waved an American flag. Jobless for almost a year, Ainsleigh, through American Legion efforts, has landed a position as yatchman at the state house in Boston, Mass.

THE MT. STERLING

The new hotel means more dollars for Mt. Sterling. The construction of this fine community built hotel will entail an actual structural cost of approximately 60 per cent of its total cost, or $40,000 for labor alone! The remaining 40 per cent, or $30,000 will go into material.

The item of $40,000 will be distributed locally to local mechanics. This same $40,000 will, in turn, be re-distributed to the merchants and business men of the community and finally to the banks of Mt. Sterling.

And what of the balance, which will be expended for building materials? These materials, you may depend, will be purchased as largely commensurate with good business right here in Mt. Sterling, or through material supply agents of Mt. Sterling. Thus it will be seen that practically every dollar invested in Mt. Sterling's newest and biggest community enterprise WILL REMAIN IN MT. STERLING, and what's the result?

This sum of money being constantly turned over and over, right here in Mt. Sterling means quickened prosperity for everyone in the community, whether he is the wage earner, the merchant, the professional man or the banker.

Every dollar invested, once started on its way, will oil the wheels of Mt. Sterling's prosperity, and then when the hotel is built and in operation, many, many more thousands of dollars of new business will be created for our community.

Every dollar invested in Mt. Sterling's new and modern hotel remains in Mt. Sterling, creating wages, business and profits for everybody concerned. It is always good business to create new and profitable business.
